SCREENS

18

CAPTURED

10/09/2026

Every screenshot shows simulated, seeded data, captured in dark mode while signed in as this user type. Nothing here is a real person, case or investigation. Where a page shows a refusal, that is the designed behavior for this seat.

The SuperAdmin operates the site rather than using it: people, groups, taxonomies, billing, moderation, and the diagnostics that say whether the platform is healthy.

Two of these screens exist because something went wrong and could not be seen. Outgoing Mail exists because a real sign-up produced no email and nothing anywhere recorded it — a failure that is invisible from every other surface, since the account exists and the site is up. Rate limits and the audit log are the same idea: the platform explaining itself rather than requiring somebody to read the database.

How this site decides what you may see

Two things gate every surface, and they are different questions:

Your seat in a group — owner, administrator, member, viewer — answers "may this person do this?". The group's plan answers "does this group pay for this at all?". A member of a group whose plan excludes an area is refused for a completely different reason than a viewer who is not allowed to write, and the site says which.

A refusal is never rendered as "nothing here." An empty list and a server saying no are different facts, and a page that shows the same gray nothing for both teaches people to distrust it. Every list goes through `LoadResult`, which carries loading, empty, refused, session-ended and rate-limited as distinct states — and every one of them has its own words on screen.

This matters when reading this document: where a screenshot shows a refusal, that is the designed behavior for this seat, not a broken page.

Rate Limits

What the site's rate limits have turned away. You are told once per limit, by message; the totals here are where to look after that. Counts are written about once a minute, so the newest few refusals may not be included yet.

Nothing has been turned away. No rate limit has refused a request since this table was created. That is the normal state — a row appearing here means somebody, or something, hit a limit.

Attribute a coupon campaign to a person (on the campaign, by their account email) and every redemption counts as their referral. Owed is their campaign's percent of what redeemers actually paid; payouts land on the ledger, and Balance is what is still outstanding.

Note at removal: "Listed a trespass at a closed hospital as a public ghost hunt."

This is a sanctioned night at the Old Mill with the owner's written permission. We've renamed it and added the letter to the event's files.

Removing an event. Removal says what it will do before it is done: off the site, guests told, credit returned, the organizer offered an appeal.

Old Mill Lock-In

Draft

What removing it does

- It comes off the site and can't take bookings. Nothing is deleted.
- Nobody has a place or has asked for one, so no guest is written to.
- No event credit was spent on it, so there is none to return.
- The organizer is emailed that it doesn't meet our guidelines for hosted events, with a link to appeal. An upheld appeal brings it back as a draft.

Note for the record (never sent to anyone)

Listed a trespass at a closed hospital as a public ghost hunt.
